The Workers of the Modern Art Teachers and pupils vie with one School, No. 72 Washington Square another, and most of the exhibits are Modern Teachers South, are holding an exhibition of their work until March 5. The cata-Vie With Pupils in logue contains 105 numbers, and there are also a number of posters gallery, although there are a couple of portraits in colored crayon that are in a class by themselves. Miss Macomber is responsible for both of these. They are eminently academic-Both are similar in style. One shows a girl wearing her hat, and the other shows another girl without her hat. Delicate chiffon waists appear in both crayons. The same is true as to the black coats worn and the delicate flesh tints. One face is in profile, while the other is in three-quarter view. The hair masses are individually well expressed in both piotures the textiles are good.

"A Landscape," by Hugo Robus, que of the painting teachers, is very pleasing, it deals with a very decorative valley, which nestles in the foreground, with formal trees that at least suggest topiary treatment, with verdure carpets, upon which deep shadows are cast. The hills and the mountains have the appearance of glaciation. Terraced and sinuous paths wind in and out of the gradual recents. The clouds, and in fact the picture in its entirety, is highly decorative. A companion piece by the same artist is at least a thousand miles distant as to merit.

The Zerachs are represented by three characteristic pictures full of the primitive, the elemental and the barbaric. They occupy a place in modernism only as being incoherently ejaculatory. Ambitious Show before shown in America, which is loaned by Sara Morris Green, is a feature of the present show.

A Wonderful Sale of Triple-Coated White Enamel Cooking Utensils

Regularly Priced 58c to 95c; Choice, ENAMEL WARE IS OFFERED FOR SALE, EVERY PIECE IS GUARAN

Some stores have got into the habit of selling enamel ware, classed as "seconds," or slightly chipped. We never sell the one or the other. We will go further and say that if any piece that you buy in this sale should not prove satisfactory within a reasonable length of time we will willingly exchange

The capacities named are accurate. All items that come with covers are

It is just about a year ago that we held a sale which proved to be the biggest selling event in the history of our House Furnishing Department.
It was a sale of TRIPLE-COATED PURE WHITE ENAMEL COOKING

Tomorrow we will hold a similar sale, and can prophesy that this one will be an even greater success.

White Enamel Ware is the favorite of the housekeeper. It is cleanly and substantial, as everybody knows.

Now we want to direct your attention to a most important point, and that is this: NOTWITHSTANDING THE LOW PRICE AT WHICH THIS WHITE Lipped Sauce Pan. No mail, phone or C. O. D. orders filled in this sale.

modernism only as being incoherently ejaculatory.

Louise Hancock has done a full length study from the nude. The model was far from beautiful in the first place, and Miss Hancock was doubtless influenced by that fact. At any rate the undraped figure is crudely expressed and the form is by no means well modelled. The colors are both raw and crass.

Ilonka Karasz is represented by a very modernistic decoration that shows a haughty girl with a Napoleon hat and a striped skirt that accentuates her height.

May Louise Sheperd has done some excellent wood block prints, and Edna Boles Hopkins has sent some flower pleces in the same medium.

pieces in the same medium.

Francis Fulton is represented by an excellent poster dealing with a porcelain tub, with shower bath rubber and a tessellated pave, in red and white most decoratively expressed.
